BATH | Bath Haverling earned an early lead and held it in a 40-22 wrestling victory over Wayland-Cohocton Thursday.

"I'm pretty happy with the guys," said Bath head coach Jim Fowler. "Overall, we wrestled well. The young kids wrestled pretty good and the older kids did good."

The Rams (22-4, 3-0) built a 25-0 lead with a Brian Hojnoski pin at 96 pounds, while Mitchell Buckley (112) and Isaac Kolz (119) earned decision wins and Brady Gleason (285) and Kyle Conrad (103) won via forfeit.

Hojnoski's victory was unique as he began the second period in the down position and was able to pin Skyler Hendly before recording either escape or reversal points.

Bath added points with pinning wins from Cody Hutcheson (189) and Zack Simons (215), a 1-0 decision win by Sean Daley (140) and a third forfeit to Billy Crowe (130).

Addison 72 | Hammondsport 10

HAMMONDSPORT

Addison benefited from the strength of eight forfeit wins and four wins via pinfall to take down Hammondsport 72-10 Thursday.

Jonas Byler led the Knights with a 19-second pin in his 160-pound match, while Drew Dunn also pinned his opponent in under a minute (57 seconds) at 275 pounds. Dillan Franco (145) and Sam Byler (130) also won via pinfall for Addison.

Hammondsport's two wins came from Nate Gurnsey's major decision at the 140-pound class, while Joe Bossmann (152) pinned Addison's Chris Ribble in 2:31.

Wayland-Cohocton was led by a pin from Andrew Wray (145), technical falls from Neal Vecillio (135) and Brad Vecillio (152) and decisions from Richy Sikes (125) and Scott Reisenberger (160).

Bath will compete in the Mike Watson Tournament in Watkins Glen this weekend before hosting Canisteo-Greenwood on Tuesday.

“I think were about where we need to be, but we need to just get a little better,” Fowler said.
