Fixed Expenses Listed

There is nine per cent of the budget market for fixed expenses. These were explained by Mr. Young as expenses set which the local board can do nothing about. They include retirement funds for teachers, clerks, custodians; fire and wind insurance on buildings, accident insurance on students and membership fees in the State School Boards Association.

Mr. Crosby discussed the 13 per cent allotted for debt service which includes capital notes for buses, classroom furniture and other items. He also explained the unfinished account with George Patti and the reason for additional funds needed for electrical work on the new building. He also told the group that the board had re-invested money obtained through the building bond issue and had so earned $34,000 interest money which was put into the general fund because the state forbids such moneys being added to a building fund.
