

County Grapple Finals March 3

Southwestern Hosts High School Matmen

A field of approximately 75 will come to grips March 3 at Southwestern Central in County finals of the two-year old Chautauqua County Wrestling League.

Chairman Joe Rushin, lauding schoolboy grappling as "a sport that has really come into its own," announced the preparations yesterday with six teams in their final week of league action.

Weigh-ins for the representatives of champion Gowanda, Falconer, Mayville, Cassadaga Valley, Pine Valley and Southwestern are scheduled for 10 A.M., followed one hour later by a coaches' briefing.

Preliminary eliminations begin at noon and Rushin anticipated they would continue until about 4:30. Dinner will be served in the high school cafeteria for all contestants and officials at 5:30.

Semi-finals and finals will start at 7 P.M.

Admission for the entire meet has been set at 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

All contestants, whether or not they win County titles, will be eligible for the Section VI championships at Cleveland Hill the weekend of March 9-10.

Tonight's matches, winding up a 10-meet schedule, are Mayville at Falconer, Southwestern at Pine Valley and Cassadaga Valley at Gowanda. Pine Valley has a pair of postponed meets to make up.
