

HOBART WRESTLERS DEFEAT Y.M.C.A. TEAM IN INITIAL MEET

DEAN JOINS REFORM MOVE BECOMES SHY

Cards Young Star Earnest About Work Learned Lesson, He Says, Will Now Strive to Say Little and Win Games

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor Bradenton Fla., Mar. 3—(AP)—The "grapefruit circuit" this year seems to be full of earnest young athletes in the grip of a reform wave. Jerome H. (Dizzy) Dean is one of the latest to make the turn to the right, clamp the soft pedal on his loud speaking facilities and get down to the serious major league business.

Dizzy came to the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals a year ago in full blast, ready to knock the boys for a row of palmetto trees. He quickly ran into trouble, had his tonsils extracted and received a railroad ticket back to Houston, Texas.

"That," softly remarked this 20-year-old boy who may set the National League on fire this year, "taught me the lesson of my young life. I went back to work again. Then I got married. Now you can tell 'em that Old Man Dean's boy is here to keep his mouth shut most of the time and keep on working."

"I will tell you one big idea I have. I don't think it will be any tougher pitching in this league than it was in Texas. I don't worry about control because I have it. I don't mind admitting I have a high hard one that I can buzz through there. But here's the thing: up in the big league a pitcher has better support and smarter. The other fellows do their share of the game. I don't figure I will have to bear down most of the time or keep pulling myself out of a hole.

"Of course it doesn't cramp my style any to be with the best club in the big leagues."

Deacon Grapplers Display Good Form in Winning 24 to 15

All of Points Collected by "Y" Gained as Result of Falls Gained by Wagner and Duell and Default Win Registered by Milas—Hobart Wins Three Falls and Three Decision Victories

Hobart's first wrestling team easily won its initial meet last night in the Hobart gym when the Orange and Purple mat-men showed themselves superior to the Y. M. C. A. team by a score of 24-15.

All of the points collected by the Y. M. C. A. team came as the result of two falls and a default, Duell and Wagner both winning on falls and Milas collecting on a default by Somerville of Hobart. The Orange and Purple team won by turning in three falls and three-time advantage wins.

The Y. M. C. A. looked good in the first bout of the evening which put Duell up against Slosek of Hobart in the 125-pound class. Although Slosek had over a minute's time advantage on his opponent, he tired before three minutes was up and Duell pinned his shoulders to the mat after the bout had gone approximately two and a half minutes.

In the second bout, Overs of Hobart won over Johnson by a three minute time advantage after the bout had gone the full eight minutes. Overs was too tricky for his opponent, and although he lacked the strength to throw him, he had the upper hand most of the time.

The Y. M. C. A. collected its second fall in the third bout when the experienced Wagner, wrestling in the 135-pound class against Max Courage of Hobart, threw his opponent without much trouble in two minutes and twenty-five seconds with a crotch hold and half-nelson.

In the fourth bout Read of Hobart held Baroody down 4 minutes, 26 seconds out of the eight minute limit of the bout to take the decision without trouble.

The best wrestling of the evening came in the next two bouts. In the 145-pound class, Gammel, wrestling for Hobart, threw his man after 5 minutes, 12 seconds of a gruelling battle. Lovejoy, his opponent, fought back gamely, but Gammel clamped on an arm scissors and a half-nelson and slapped his shoulders to the mat.

Boney of Hobart also got a fall in the 155-pound class when he threw Peck of the Y. M. C. A. with a crotch hold and half-nelson after 6 minutes and 22 seconds of the roughest wrestling of the evening.

The most meteor-like debut of the evening for Hobart's team was that of Oliver Swift wrestling in the 175-pound class, who dashed out of his corner, caught his opponent, Cooley around the neck when Cooley dived for him, threw him over his shoulder jumped on him, applied a half-nelson and body-hold and earned a fall, all in 24 seconds.

In the unlimited weight class, Hobart nearly turned in two victories, but Somerville defaulted to Milas after earning a time advantage of over five minutes when he was thrown off the mat and hit his back and head on the floor, dazing him so that he could no longer wrestle.

The final event of the evening featured Sammy Seader, 195-pound captain of the Hobart football team, with a weight disadvantage of over thirty-five pounds, played with the huge Hillmeier of the Y. M. C. A. for eight minutes, winning by a time advantage of 4 minutes and thirty-five seconds.

SCHALK QUILTS MAJOR LEAGUE FIRING LINE

Veteran Steps Out to Manage Buffalo Club Had Unsuccessful Career as Manager and Coach in Big Leagues

Chicago, Mar. 3—(AP)—Baseball's mighty little "Cracker," Ray Schalk, has ceased firing on the major league front.

When Schalk, familiarly known as "Cracker," signed up yesterday as manager of the Buffalo International League club, one of the best known figures in baseball stepped out of the big show, probably for good.

As player, manager and coach, the "Cracker" has been in the majors without missing a single season since way back in 1912 when he was sold by Milwaukee to the White Sox. As a catcher, he turned in one of the most brilliant careers in baseball history—many insist today that it was easily the best to date—only to end it as a dismissed manager in mid-season.

Schalk's managerial and coaching career was unsuccessful largely because he happened to be with clubs which were expected to land somewhere in the World Series pay-off and failed to do so. The White Sox released him suddenly one morning in mid-season, the Giants failed to rehire him as coach after the one season, in 1929, while the Cubs had his coaching services for the next two seasons and released him in the subsequent shake-ups.

Since his release by the Cubs, Schalk has been dickering about to acquire his own minor league club. He was close to landing a deal for the Toledo Mud Hens of the American Association only to fall when the club was sold to the Cleveland Indians.

Syracuse Outfit, Here Tonight, Has Star Performers

The St. Patrick's Shamrocks varsity court team, slated to oppose the Geneva Jeans basketball outfit at the State Armory, includes some of the best known court performers in Syracuse in the line-up that will face Johnny Bogart's squad tonight. One of the stellar tossers included in the Syracuse roster is Ken Beagle, captain of the Syracuse University team last season, a three-sport varsity captain and a member of the Reindeer five. Another is Tommy Allen, graduate of Christian Brothers Academy and one of the best players on that school's celebrated scholastic quint of a few years ago. Allen has been playing pro basketball in the American League for the past five years. Don Dutton, another member of the Shamrock outfit, is also a C. B. A. graduate and later a regular member of the Georgetown University court team. Luke Diamond, Tommy Costello, Eddie Ryan, Con Murphy and Art Jackson all played on the famous Holy Rosary teams of a few years ago and were regular members of the quintet that represented that institution and captured the runner-up position in the Chicago national scholastic tournament two seasons in succession. Diamond and Murphy were both chosen all-tournament guards two years in a row. Against this stellar array of court talent, which has scored victories over some of the leading pro-outfits in the state, Manager John Bogart of the Jeans will send his regular line-up which includes the two Kenney brothers, George Long, Joey Brennan, "Pug" Mahoney and possibly himself and Gene Linzy. The game is slated to start at 9 o'clock. A first class preliminary will precede the main game of the evening.

DOWN THE ALLEY

By "Chet"

JOE TANEY, the well known sharpshooter of the Elks team, is enjoying one of his best seasons on the alleys. The big fellow is setting a dizzy pace in the Central New York Elks League, having compiled an average of 202, bowling on all alleys. This is certainly a real average and with only one more match on the schedule, that with Auburn Sunday, Joe is virtually certain of winding up the season with a 200 or better mark.

TONIGHT SHOULD see some very interesting matches in the Finger Lakes loop. First we have the Recreation team taking on the Jolley Chevrolets of Penn Yan on alleys one and two and on alleys five and six. The Geneva Bot-

BILL MILLS, shooting with the Seneca Chevrolet team against Kellogg's Garage in a postponed Finger Lakes League match, hung up three nice games of 163, 213, and 239 for a big 615 total.

PAUL JOHNSON, of the American Legion City National League team, was in great form last night turning in games of 181, 191 and 243 for a 615 total and leading his team to three straight wins over the Shuron crew.

INDEPENDENTS WIN SECOND IN QUOIT RACE

Forging ahead at the start, the Independents kept up their winning pace throughout the game to defeat Shuron last night and grab second place in the quoit league standings.

Cooley's five straight ringers was the high spot of the contest. He had the league record tied with a sixth ringer but Meyers spoiled the effort by putting another ringer on top. Tonight at 7:30 o'clock, an important meeting is scheduled at the quoit rooms and all team captains are urged to be present. All business of the league for this season is due to be cleared up, a nominating committee appointed and smoker plans discussed.

MILE RELAY WILL PROVIDE SOME THRILLS

Dozen Teams Entered Are Closely Matched

Three Have Already Registered Fast Times for Event

New York, Mar. 3—(AP)—One of the big thrills of every indoor track season is the mile relay at the indoor intercollegiate and the indications are that the 1932 battle next Saturday will be no exception to the rule.

The dozen teams are closely matched and able to produce great races in the heats as well as in the final. At least three of them, Pennsylvania, the defending champion New York University and Holy Cross have made unusually fast times this year and will likely be "seeded" in separate heats. Four others are rated as contenders and the rest are good enough to make their favored rivals step out.

The Penn team, which set a world's indoor record in winning last year's relay in 3:17 4-5, has turned in times of 3:23 1-5 and 3:25 in winning two races over much slower tracks than the intercollegiate oval. N. Y. U. and Holy Cross have been clocked in 3:22 4-5. Penn Germans the favorite with last year's record team intact.

The teams of Georgetown, Colgate, Manhattan and Harvard also have turned in some fine performances. All but Harvard have done better than 3:25 and the Crimson has been running on slower tracks. The other teams, which are rated merely as possible contenders, are Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Penn State and Dartmouth.
