ENTER LARRIE

MAT TOURNEY

Canton — Already 10 entries in the fifth annual St. Lawrence university high school wrestling tournament to be held here Friday and Saturday indicate that this year's tournament will be the largest held here.

With the favorite this year expected to be the undefeated Long Island championship mat team from the Wellington C. Mepham high school of Bellmore, L. I., more than teams from all sections of the state will be present.

Entries from Ithaca high school will be here for the second year as will be those from Canton high, Gouverneur, Edwards, Ogdensburg Free Academy, Little Falls, Van Hornesville and Watertown. New entries this year are Altoona and Mepham high of Bellmore, L. I.

Other schools whose entries were expected to be in the mail Tuesday afternoon were Chateaugay, Wolcott, Malone, Ellenburg, Norwich and Alexandria Bay.

Van Hornesville high captured the team title last year and is just as strong this year, but the Long Island team with five Long Island individual champions on it appears to be the strongest so far entered.
