Walsh, Jones, Amidon, King, Brown win

ROCHESTER — Unbeatens Jim Walsh of Geneva and Don Jones of Canandaigua, along with Greg Amidon of Mynderse, copped Class A wrestling titles Saturday at Monroe Community College.

The three Finger Lakes grapplers will now carry the hopes of Class A in the Class A-B wrestle-offs at Geneseo State tomorrow night. The wrestle-offs are slated to get underway at 7.

In the Class B meet, held at Geneseo Saturday, Trumansburg's Ron King and Tom Brown captured titles. They were the only two wrestlers from the area to do so.

The winners of the Class A-B meet will represent Section 5 in the Inter-Sectional Tourney at the Syracuse War Memorial, Friday and Saturday.

Walsh breezed to the championship in the 98 pound class and ran his unbeaten record to 25 straight this season by decisioning Dave Travis of Spencerport, 2-1, in the finals. Walsh picked up a point on an escape in the second period and a point for riding time.

Jim reached the finals by first pinning Myron Farewell of West High in 3:47 and then decisioned Eastridge's Dave Polsonelli, 5-0 in the semi-finals.

Jones won his 22nd straight bout of the season when he decisioned Tom Garland of Spencerport in the finals of the 137 pound class.

He pinned Tyrone Crumity of West in 2:20 of the first round match before pinning Stan Young, of Bath, in 4:47 of the semi-finals.

Amidon decisioned Dan Lee of Monroe, 4-2, in the quarter-finals, before decisioning Dean Hoag of Bath, 0-2 in the semi-finals. In the finals he decisioned the City's top grappler, Martin Cangilosi of Jefferson, 5-3. Amidon has a record of 21-1-2.

In the B meet, King decisioned Geneseo's Dan Turner in the 155 pound final and Brown decisioned Tom Lester of Cuba at unlimited.

Dave VanNostrand of Waterloo, John Szkolnik of Geneva, Bill Walsh of Geneva; Bob Connelly of Canandaigua; Jim Hartwell of Canandaigua; Jim Sinicropi of Mynderse; Dave Atkinson of Geneva; Curt Morgan of Penn Yan, Ted Manslank of Geneva and Dick Atkinson of Phelps-Clifton all lost first round matches. Szkolnik lost on a referee's decision.

Gerry Case of Canandaigua reached the finals, as did Stu Smith of Mynderse and Paul Manslank of Geneva.

Jim Walsh, Geneva

Greg Amidon, Mynderse

Don Jones, Canandaigua

Ron King, Trumansburg

Tom Brown, Trumansburg

Case, last year's 98 pound champ, decisioned John Chartland of Edison, 7-0, in the first round bout before gaining a referee's decision over defending champion Al Solomon of Rush-Henrietta at 107 pounds. He lost, 5-2, in the finals to Greece-Arcadia's Chuck Grossman.

Smith reached the finals of the 165 pound class, decisioning Will Meys of Jefferson, 9-1 and Kevin Morris of Corning West, 5-1. Kurt Blank, Monroe County's top wrestler decisioned Smith, 7-0, in the finals.

At 185 pounds, Manslank decisioned John Boccardo of East, 9-1 and then beat Gary Siconolfi of Eastridge, 4-1, in the semi-finals before bowing to Frank Beswick, the Monroe County number three wrestler, 6-3 in the finals.

Mynderse's Al Calabro, finished third at 115 pounds by decisioning John LaBoy of Edison, 8-5 in the consolations. Calabro won his first match with a pin over Rufus Farewell of West but lost out to East Rochester's Brian O'Lena, 9-6, in the semi-finals.

Another Mynderse wrestler, Dave Moreland, also placed third by pinning Ken Betlem of Spencerport in the 175 pound consolation bout. Moreland beat Madison's Skip Day, 6-1, before losing to Rick Cenzi of Rush-Henrietta in the semi-finals, 3-1.

Penn Yan's Farrell Simmons placed fourth at 123 pounds, as did Newark's Russ Willemsen at 155 pounds, and Steve Horrigan of Penn Yan at heavyweight. Horrigan was decisioned 4-3, in the consolation bout by Wayne's Charlie Catalano.

Fifth place finishers were VanNostrand, at 98 pounds; Szkolnik, at 107 pounds; Bill Walsh, at 115 pounds and Atkinson, at 137 pounds.

In the Class A-B meet tomorrow night, Walsh will meet Kevin Webster of Livonia at 98 pounds, while Jones will tangle with Ray Ruliffson of Geneseo at 137 pounds. At 145, Amidon will go against Caledonia-Mumford's Henry Cobb.

King will meet Penfield's Bob Huizenga at 155, while Brown will face Corning West's George Deitrick at unlimited. All five Geneva grapplers, that did not cop a title, lost to a champion. Geneva Coach Bill Brooks was "very pleased" with his boys. "They did a real good job for me", he said.

French humiliate Austria — World ski battle goes to Norway

By JACK SCHREIBMAN

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — The fierce battle for the World Cup of skiing moves to Norway this week after the French, in the person of 23-year-old Patrick Russel, handed Austria a humiliating defeat.

So stinging was Russel's victory in the men's giant slalom Sunday at Heavenly Valley, that Karl Schranz, the overwhelming favorite to take the cup the second year running, put on a display that left veteran ski writers amazed.

Schranz, who needed a second place in the giant slalom to clinch the cup, came in third behind his countryman, Warner Bliner, which left Schranz enraged. Bliner had won the first run of the two-run event Saturday.

Schranz jabbed his ski pole in the snow and complained bitterly to an aide of Austrian head coach Herman Gamon.

The 31-year-old Austrian veteran said Bliner should have slowed down to let Schranz place second, winning the cup.

Information pieced together on the slopes indicated the Austrian strategy called for Bliner to be signalled to slow down if at mid-course he was a second behind Russel.

According to the complicated cup scoring system, Schranz would have won the coveted award at Heavenly Valley if Bliner had won the giant slalom — depriving Russel of badly needed points—or placed third behind Schranz.

What it all means is that Russel, now with 145 cup points, can take the cup by winning the giant slalom in Norway.

meaning that a racer would not earn any points in a certain event, even if he did place high, if he had already had the maximum he could possible win in that event.

With Russel's victory in the giant slalom also came the Governor's Cup, presented annually by the states of Nevada and California, the common border of which Heavenly Valley straddles.

France's Alain Penz, who placed first in the slalom, was crowned winner of combined results of the entire weekend of racing.

Along with the racing thrills on packed powder snow in rare perfect condition throughout the whole meet, there was plenty of intrigue.

The French privately complained that the Austrian course setter, Gamon, for the first run of the giant slalom had set a course favoring Schranz' old knees. The Austrians complained that the Canadian

Pappas gains second win in 3 weeks

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — George Pappas gained his second victory in three weeks on the Professional Bowlers Association winter tour Saturday by downing Bill Johnson 227-197 in the championship game of the $45,000 Greater Buffalo open.

Pappas took the Miller Open in Milwaukee two weeks ago. His $6,000 Buffalo Open first-prize check raised his winnings to $22,500, high among the pros.

Pappas, of Charlotte, N.C., tallied a double and a triple in the championship match. Johnson, of New Orleans, was unable to string two strikes together.

A strike and a spare on the first two frames gave Pappas a 10-pin lead. He was ahead by 30 in the seventh frame on his turkey.
