December 16, 1972

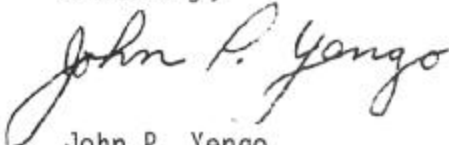

Dear Friends:

It is indeed a pleasure to welcome you to the 1st Annual Xerox/Webster Wrestling Invitational.

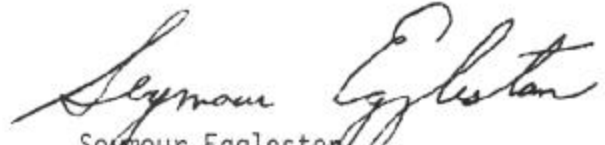

Our community believes in the tradition which has been established throught the past years as host to one of New York State's reknown wrestling classics. As I'm sure you are aware, last year Section Five was runner-up by one and a half points in the State Tournament. We are aiming for top state honors this year as well as unseating our 1971 overall tournament winner, East Rochester, and individual champs from Penn Yan, Doug Scott, and East High's Craig Dade.

This year, we are happy to have our neighbors, Xerox Corporation, join us as a tournament co-sponsor. Their commitment as a concerned corporate community citizen allows all of us to enjoy the benefits of their presence. Hopefully, this marriage will allow continuation of a first class tournament for years to come.

Sincerely,

John P. Yengo
Varsity Wrestling Coach

HOW TO FOLLOW TOURNAMENT WRESTLING

If you are new to wrestling, the following guidelines will help you follow the progress of a bout and the tournament.

A wrestling bout is six minutes long; divided into three periods, each lasting two minutes.

The first period of each bout starts from a standing position. The second and third periods begin on the mat, contestants alternating in the top position at the beginning of each period.

A pin which ends the bout, occurs when a wrestler holds any part of his opponent's shoulders or area of both scapulas to the mat for two seconds. When the bout goes the full six minutes, the wrestler with the highest score wins the bout by a decision.

In tournament wrestling, when no decision is met (a tie) in regulation time, the bout goes into overtime of one, three-minute period. In the event of a tie after the overtime ends, a jury of two judges and the referee select the winner by written ballot.

A default occurs when a wrestler is unable to continue because of injury. In the event of a default or forfeit, the winning wrestler earns a pin point as well as an advancement point for his team.

Penalties are awarded by the referee under a point system for stalling, illegal holds and technical violations.
