

WRESTLING PREVIEW

If the first 100 is really the hardest, RIT Wrestling Coach Earl Fuller can relax—but he won't.

Fuller is just as eager to get started on the second 100 after getting his 100th victory as an RIT coach last year.

And with a stepped up mat schedule, it's just as well that Fuller isn't taking it easy. RIT faces one of the toughest schedules of any college its size this season.

Included are matches against Lock Haven, the NAIA national champion; Bloomsburg, the NAIA runnerup; Cortland, the New York State Teachers champion; an all-veteran Hartwick team; a vastly improved Clarkson team, as well as matches against strong University of Buffalo, Lycoming, Oswego and Ithaca.

Fuller will have a half-veteran, half-newcomer team, as he starts in quest of the second 100, and he expects to count heavily upon one from each veteran Doug Drake, and newcomer John VanderVeen.

Drake and VanderVeen go the extremes in weight class, too, with Drake in the 123-pound class, and sophomore VanderVeen at 177.

With Drake in the veteran category are Joe Lanzisera, the only senior on the team; heavyweight Charles Kuhler, and 157-pound juniors Dick Dawson, Chuck Caleo and Vern Biehler.

Lanzisera, at 130, was 4-5 a year ago and should show improvement.

Kuhler, the hardest worker on the team, came on strong at the end of last season and may be a big surprise this season.

After VanderVeen, Bill Thompson, another sophomore, at 147, has perhaps the most potential of the new wrestlers. He has "real native talent," according to Coach Fuller.

Perry Jones, a 115-pounder who did well as a freshman last year, is another one whom Fuller is counting on to win several matches this year.

Paul Lane, John Keenan, both sophomores, and junior transfer Walt Klein, all show potential, says Fuller, but he'll wait until he's seen them in competitive action before he passes judgment.

SUMMARY

Fuller will have a strong team, but the record may not show it. It's going to be like going into the lion's mouth on several occasions. Still, with a few breaks, the Tigers could have a very outstanding year.

Varsity Wrestling Roster

Weight Class	Name	Age	Hgt	Class	Hometown, High School
115	Jones, Perry	19	5-6	Sophomore	Rochester, N.Y., West
123	Drake, Douglas	21	5-8	Junior	Spencerport, N.Y., Central
130	Lanzisera, Joseph	21	5-9	Senior	Seaford, N.Y., High School
137	Lane, Paul	19	5-7	Sophomore	Evanston, Ill., High
137	Keenan, John	19	5-7	Sophomore	Elmhurst, N.Y., Free Academy
147	Thompson, William	19	5-6	Sophomore	Gloversville, N.Y., High
157	Dawson, Richard	21	5-10	Junior	Spencerport, N.Y., Central
157	Caleo, Charles	21	5-10	Junior	Rochester, N.Y., Edison Tech
157	Biehler, LaVerne	23	5-11	Junior	Rochester, N.Y., John Marshall
167	Klein, Walter	21	6-0	Junior	Queens, N.Y., Richmond Hill
177	VanderVeen, John	19	5-11	Sophomore	Glen Aubrey, N.Y., Union-Endicott
Hwt	Kuhler, Charles	26	6-0	Junior	Huntington, N.Y., Walt Whitman