The Westfield "Y" Wrestling Team ended its season of wrestling in a triangular meet between Westfield, Jamestown and Warren, held at Jamestown "Y" Monday, April 6, 1931. Although "Shorty" Ellis, Flagg and Seamans were absent, because of Ellis' bad ear and Flagg and Seaman's Easter Trip, the Westfield boys managed to beat Jamestown and tie Warren.

"Kid" Murphy, 115 pound class went two overtime periods with Mazzone of Jamestown, even though he was outweighed and has not had the mat experience that Mazzone has. Mazzone won on a decision.

James Northrup wrestled in Flagg's position and after a battle that was nip and tuck, as long as it lasted, the Warren boy succeeded in pinning Jimmy.

A. Palermo wrestling in the 135 class won a decision from Wheeler of Jamestown.

To me,

But good old America for me, and Sherman is my home.

"This is one of the many banquets you have given me and I sure appreciate your loyalty and friendship during my life. My subject is thrift and pay as you go."

"In 1920 I took a farm at Gerry, New York and needed a dairy. Soon after a farmer nearby sold twenty cows at auction, and he agreed, if I would buy one half the dairy, he would give me a calf for every cow, except two cows that had veals by their side, and I must pay extra for the veals.

"I bought twelve head, but two were farrow, but I claimed two calves for them and got them. I then sold the twelve calves for $90.00. I also got a discount of 5 per cent. on all stock I bought which left my milch cows at $90.00 each instead of $105.00.
That is thrift.

"I rejoice as I stand here full of pep on my 89th birthday looking forward for a happy year challenging those, if any, who doubt my being in the 100 per cent. class in social, political and business life, and also at

"Mayor Stanton is to be congratulated on the economical way he has used the finances of the village of Sherman for the past two years and every official in town, county, state and nation should do all that is possible to help the masses by a reduction in taxation."
