

ISU advances 10 in Big Eight tourney

Gable, Duschen, Jean draw first round byes

Cyclone wrestlers came through in championship fashion Friday night as they won five of six bouts and advanced 10 men into the semi-final round this afternoon in the Big Eight Wrestling Tournament.

The Oklahoma State Cowboys also advanced 10 men while some Sooner wrestlers fell by the wayside and Coach Tommy Evan's team only advanced 8 men into the semi-final round.

The fans were disappointed that Dan Gable of the Cyclones and some of the other top wrestlers had drawn byes but they will have a chance to see them in action this afternoon and this evening.

Iowa State got on the victory trail and just stayed there as Mike Schmauss, the defending conference champion at 115 pounds, posted a 3-0 victory over Doug Erickson in the 130 pound class.

Carl Adams was the next Cyclone victor, as he defeated Henry Dark of Missouri 4-1 in the 145 pound class.

Duane Olson supplied the Cyclone fans with their greatest thrill when he rallied from a 5-0 deficit to post a 10-7 victory over Joe George of Nebraska in the 152 pound class.

At 160 and 167 pounds the Cyclones posted pin wins.

Dave Martin pinned Kirk Purcell of Colorado at 1:50 while Smith pinned Jack Harpin of Colorado at 4:38.

Because there are only seven teams competing in the tournament there are always first round byes. (Kansas does not have a wrestling team.)

In an effort to make things as fair as possible there are no advancement points given in the first round except for pins.

Martin and Smith gained two points for the Cyclones while the Sooners and the Cowboys each gained four points via the pin route.

Wayne Beske, the final Cyclone wrestler of the evening, dropped a close 3-2 decision to Bob Knudsen of Missouri in the Heavyweight class.

Other teams and the men they advanced to the semi-finals today besides the Big Three included Missouri with seven, Colorado and Nebraska with four and Kansas State with one.

All wrestlers who either won or drew byes Friday night advanced into the semifinals today with the finals scheduled for tonight at the Armory at Iowa State University.

Ray Stapp of Oklahoma State, No. 1 seeded at 115 pounds, Dan Gable defending champion and No. 1 seed at 137 pounds, and Jim Duchon, defending champion and No. 1 seed at 191 pounds, all drew byes in the first rounds and advanced into the semifinals.

Number one seed Stan Keely of Oklahoma beat Keith Hasselquist of Nebraska at 123 pounds, 12-3, while teammate Dave McGuire, No. 1 seed at 130 pounds, picked up one point in a pin of Jim Barrett of Kansas State in 7:11.

Mike Grant of Oklahoma, 145 pound defending champion, beat Dennis Dobson of Nebraska, 13-3. Jay Arneson picked up one point for Oklahoma State, pinning Danny Thomas of Kansas State in 4:10 in 152 pound class. Arneson is the No. 1 seed in the class.

Iowa State's Jason Smith, No. 1 seed at 167 pounds, advanced into the semifinals with a pin of Jack Harpin of Colorado in 4:38. Charles Shivers of Oklahoma pinned Ron Tacha of Kansas State in 2:36 at 177 pounds. Shivers is the No. 1 seed in the weight class.

In the heavyweight class, No. 1 seed and defending champion John Ward of Oklahoma State pinned Don Popplewell of Colorado in 3:02.

"U.S. OPEN"—Bill Hoke, writing friend at Branson, Missouri, tells us that the Third Annual U.S. Open Fishing Tournament will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 18, 19 and 20, with contestants spending one day on each of the three lakes in the Branson vicinity—Bull Shoals, Table Rock and Taneycomo.

Any male angler 15 years or older, except Branson area guides, is eligible to enter the tourney, which will be limited to artificial lures, and contestants will have the option of fishing with an observer or another contestant.

Fish to be entered in the contest will include Black Bass, Crappie, White Bass, Walleye, Kokanee and Trout, and trophies will be awarded to the five top-ranking fishermen as well as for the angler who weighs in the heaviest fish each day.

Detailed information and entry forms may be obtained by writing Bill Hoke, Mo-Zark Fish Bowl News, Branson, Missouri 65616.

WATERFRONT WASTES—A New Jersey lumber company has leased waterfront property in Jersey City and will operate a pilot plant to salvage rotten wood from old piers, pilings and sunken barges along the Hudson River. It is hoped that this harbor waste can be converted into wood chips, rough lumber and pallets. In the past, such materials were burned in the lower New York Bay area. The conversion plans are reported to be a way of reducing air pollution as well as helping reduce the amount of solid waste material in this highly crowded area.

TACKLE BOXES—Even the best-cared-for tackle box takes a beating not just physical abuse alone, although banging around in crowded car trunks and fishing boats can dish out plenty of that, but, there's also deterioration from water and motor oil, rust and peeling of paint.

If you're shopping around for a new box for this coming season, the Umco Corporation has just released some 1969 models which, to this writer, seem to have solved the problems of hard knocks and hard usage, and should keep right on giving faithful service season after season. They're not only serviceable, but mighty attractive, and are available in many materials, sizes and finishes for all types of fishing.

Umco also offers a complete line of oars, paddles, sports seats and stools, landing nets, leathers, and boat-boarding ladders.

MUST PAY—Ontario residents have never needed a license to fish in home waters—until now. As of the first of the year the province imposed a $3 resident angling fee for all males 19 or over. Women and children still get to fish for free. Lands and Forests officials estimate a million permits will be sold by mid-June. They've also ordered 850,000 non-resident licenses and the tab for these is $8.50 per season and $4 for a three-day tag.

IN CONTROL—Karl Adams of Iowa State, top position, used steady control to beat Henry Dark of Missouri 4-1 in the 145 pound class Friday night at the ISU Army. Adams was one of five Cyclone wrestlers that posted opening round victories and one of ten that advanced to the semi-final round this afternoon. (Tribune Photo by Vince Coyle)

Kansas leads but Ryun is injured

By RICHARD L. SHOOK
DETROIT (UPI)—Jim Ryun is hurting Kansas' championship hopes in the National Collegiate Athletic Association indoor track meet could be limping just a little bit, too.

Kansas held a seemingly overwhelming, 25-15 lead over second-place Villanova going into the second and final day of the NCAA indoor track championships at Cobo Arena.

The Jayhawks' super-miler is the key to how many more points his team will pile up in the 11 events to be run off today. However, Ryun is uncertain whether he can even participate in his specialty.

He was forced out of a two-mile race by blisters and a bad knee Friday night.

The Wildcats' Erv Hall will be a heavy favorite in the finals of the 60-yard high hurdles and both schools have entries in the mile and distance Medley relays.

Sophomore Karl Salb got Kansas off to a flying start in the shot put, leading the Jayhawks to a sweep of the first three places.

Teammates Jon Jessie and Stan Whitley captured the top two spots in the long jump. Jessie got off the longest leap of his life—25 feet 2 1/2 inches—to nip the Big Eight king by one-half inch.

Villanova came roaring back on the flying feet of world indoor record holder Larry James in the 40-yard dash. James took off like a shot at the first turn and led all the way in putting down Lee Evans of San Jose State.

Frank Murphy captured the 800-yard crown for Villanova by turning back the challenge of Ron Kutschinski of Michigan with a time of 1:51.1.

The two-mile was won by Ole Olson of Southern California with a time of 8:45.2 while Frank Shorter of Yale and Dick Buerkle of Villanova were just one-tenth of a second behind in one of the closest two-mile races ever seen.
