Coached by Gramps, Spirit Breaker, and Pumpkin, an injury plagued varsity wrestling team finished the season with a 3-7 record in a tough NFL league. The team also placed third at the Akron Invitational Tournament and seventh at the New York State Private School Tournament. Individual highlights were Chip Aquilina placing third and Chris Henrich placing second (thus qualifying for the sectionals) at the NFL tournament.

No longer does the team spit on and rub the bellies of Buddha brothers #1 and #2 for good luck, nor does the headless chicken hold the key to the team's success; yes, sophistication has come to the Nichols wrestling team. There was the daily scrubbing of the mats with the mongoose. Jim Block actually wrestled a conservative final match. Charley sacrificed honor to oversleep a match. Squez sang "Joey" for the team's listening pleasure. Teo threw the legs. "I've got a forfeit" Kareff reminded Mr. Waltz to stop at red lights. Eddy told Mr. Franz about the lights at Kenmore West. Buddha brother #2 donned a mask of ferocity. Sanford quick pinned. Cobb reminded everyone that his nose attracts cheerleaders. Buddha brother #1— alias Dookey— made a headband that told Avis what we really think of them. The BLC lives on.
