Electric Bills

The protest against the recent high electric bills mailed to some 600 customers served by Rochester Gas & Electric has resulted in nearly 200 signatures on a petition to the New York State Public Service Commission.

The petition drive organized by Pike resident Carol Ferrin is a move, according to Mrs. Ferrin, to let the state regulatory agency, R.G.&E. and local political representatives know that the people can not afford to bear the cost of ever increasing utility bills.

This newspaper contacted Anthony Vasile, Genesee District Manager for Rochester Gas and Electric to learn the reasons for the recent rate jump.

Mr. Vasile reported that three factors were responsible for the increases in the bills. The first component, according to Vasile, was the length of the billing period. The district manager stated that the period was longer due to the holiday season, Christmas and New Years.

Secondly, Mr. Vasile said that the billing period was 100 percent colder than the previous year, thus increased electric was used to operate furnace blowers and fans. He also remarked that with the holidays, more baking and cooking is done along with extra Christmas lighting which accounts for some families electrical usage increase. The fact that children are home from school for holiday vacation, Mr. Vasile said, results in more electric use with TVs on longer and stereo and radios used for longer than normal time periods.

Thirdly, Mr. Vasile said that during the billing period, the utilities Ginna nuclear plant was off line due to government mandated inspection regulations. The output

1:32. Todd Close of Avon, pinned Mike Teed, Livonia, at 3:37.

Avon's Close shut out Cal-Mum's Sheffer in the first semifinal match, 9-0. LeRoy's Tomaszewski pinned Letchworth's Wachowski at 5:50.

At 180 pounds, in quarterfinal activity, Mike Hughes, Geneseo, pinned Rod Barber, Livonia, at 1:58. Wade Goosens won a major decision over Jack Dainard, 13-3. Karl Schrier of Keshequa won a superior decision over Dave Zarczyk, 14-2. Dansville's John Wise pinned York's Bill Hess at 0:37.

In semifinal action, Geneseo's Hughes decided Avon's Goosens, 13-3. Dansville's Wise won by default when Keshequa's Schrier incurred a broken arm, and action was delayed for a few minutes on one of the two mats while the Caledonia Rescue Squad came.

Allen McClements, 218 pounds, Keshequa, pinned John Stauffer in 1:48. Bill Andrews, York, pinned Ken Herbert, Letchworth, at 5:20. Wayne Hodge, LeRoy, pinned Craig Northrup, HF-L, at 3:32. Joe Gustainis, Cal-Mum superiorly decided Jim Winat, Livonia, 13-0. In Semifinals, McClements, Keshequa, pinned Andrews, York, 5:15. Gustainis, Cal-Mum, advanced past Hodge, LeRoy, score unavailable.

At 253, Kevin Wells, Avon, pinned Whitney Griffen, Geneseo, 3:04. Chuck Burley, Wayland, pinned Wade Coleman, York, 1:38. John Johnson, LeRoy, and Eric Anderson of Livonia, advanced with a bye.

In semifinal action, Johnson, of LeRoy, wrestled Wells of Avon, and Johnson jumped off to a 2-0 lead. Wells tied the score at 2-2 with a reversal, then Johnson led again 4-2. Wells tied at 4-4, then built his lead to 11-4 by early in the second period. Wells had executed a near pin by that time. At 3:45, with Wells leading 11-6, Johnson pinned Wells.

Livonia's Anderson wrestled Wayland's Burley in the other semifinal, score unavailable.
