

The Lion wrestling team displayed fine individual efforts but was hindered by a lack of total performance to post a 3-8 record. Although the matmen began the season with a full complement and a promising season ahead, the injury and illness pared the team down to a skeleton squad often hampered by forfeiture. However, every individual remaining on the team put forth outstanding effort and made great improvement. Dana Rising, Gene Hunter, and Ron Mott each were undefeated in league competition, while Ed Byrd, Solomon Hill, and Keith Rose each made important contributions.

Coach Robert Ames will have nine returning lettermen next season to form a nucleus for what is hoped to be a greatly improved team. Junior Varsity Coach Roger Reese also hopes for increased participation to improve upon this year's winless JV season, due largely to forfeiture.

Nobody messes with these "leo"tard Lions!
